UNION SERVICE

DR. LANDRITH FACES IMMENSE AUDIENCE CELEBRATING PROHIBITION

The magnificent audience which filled the First Methodist Church of this city from gallery to remotest recesses of the auditorium in which there was space for the placing of a chair, was well pleased with its jubilee meeting to celebrate the going into effect of constitutional prohibition, and with the man, Dr. Ira Landrith, who made the address of the evening, "Atlas on the Water Wagon—Get it Done." Fine organ numbers and anthems and quartettes by members of the vested choir accompanied the service. Rev. Clifford Cole made the opening invocation, and Rev. E. E. Ford introduced the speaker.

Dr. Landrith is from Tennessee and did not lose time in making his audience acquainted with the fact. He dropped into the vernacular of the south almost immediately, and to the hard facts and logic of his address he gave a setting of homely wit and humor that kept his audience interested and sympathetic. Taking into account the fact that he has been touring the country for seven years in behalf of prohibition and that he had just returned from a fatiguing trip to the Imperial Val-

FORTNIGHTLY BRIDGE CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Puffer were the host and hostess of the Fortnightly Bridge Club which met last Saturday night. Members enjoyed the usual evening of cards, Mr. Puffer achieving high score for the gentlemen and Mrs. H. B. Howeth for the ladies. At the close of play guests gathered around a prettily appointed table in the dining room, which was centered with a handsome basket filled with marygolds and tied with orange colored tulle and where delicious refreshments were served. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lane of Burbank, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Barton, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wernette, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Howeth and the host and hostess.

GLENDALE ENTHUSIASTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ringer of Canton, Ohio, who have been in the south and west since the first of November, will return to Canton soon but expect to come back to California in the fall and are anticipating making their home here. They have purchased a choice corner lot in Selvas de Verdugo, and will build a home there. Mr. Ringer says he has looked Southern California over for a homesite and has been as far south as Mexico, but he has found no place to compare with Glendale and surroundings. The site they have chosen is on the boulevard and is shaded with fine old live oaks. The view in that section is incomparable.

PREPARE FOR FEAST

REV. EDMONDS OPENS PRE-COMMUNION WEEK AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. W. E. Edmonds at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning ushered in "Pre-communion Week" with a sermon based upon the first eleven verses of the 40th Chapter of Isaiah.

This was written from the standpoint of the exile. To the chosen people in a foreign land came this great message from their Lord, "Behold the Lord God will come," and he spoke to the prophet saying, "Comfort ye, comfort ye my people." The people of Israel had sinned and had through hard experience been brought to remember the words of the Lord, "Be ye not deceived for that which man soweth that shall he also reap." They had reaped the harvest of disobedience and now came to them the welcome news of the coming of the Lord. There were five voices that spoke in this message. They were: Love and Pardon, Preparation, Holy Spirit, Faith, the Voice of the Lord God Jehovah.

You may speak to the head, to the intellect, and get nowhere, but the voice of the spirit goes to the very heart of the people. To this feast of the Communion, we must come as pardoned sinners, to meet the Lord himself who speaks to us with a voice of love that gives assurance that our warfare has ceased and our iniquity is pardoned.

We are bid prepare for this feast.

FOR MRS. EARL BRYANT

IS GUEST OF HONOR AT SEVERAL FUNCTIONS GIVEN BY OLD FRIENDS

Mrs. Earl Bryant of San Francisco who is here visiting old friends, has been the recipient of much social attention the past week. On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Angelica of 710 North Maryland Avenue entertained with an informal social evening in her honor at which games were played and a general social good time enjoyed, a buffet supper being served about midnight. The guest list included: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gorman of Hollywood and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowler of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watts from Hollywood, and from Glendale the following: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. West, Mr. and Mrs. James Apffel, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw and daughter, Marie, Mr. and Mrs. W. Boothby, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Augustine, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dibbern, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Bryant.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dibbern of 208 West Lomita entertained with a dinner for Mrs. Bryant, covers being laid for Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Augustine, for Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Angelica and little son, Robert, for Mrs. Bryant and daughter, Helen, and the host and hostess.

VISITORS FROM KANSAS

G. M. Shepherd and wife of Lyons, Kansas, who are spending the winter in California, visited the families of E. W. Lyon, 214 N. Louise St., and J. C. Davis of 371 Salem St., Sunday. This is their first visit to the Southland and they are so charmed with its beauties that they are determined to locate in this vicinity, preferring Glendale over all other cities they have seen. Miles Richard and wife, W. H. Hopkins and family and E. A. Richards and wife, all of Lyons, Kansas, or its near vicinity, have also been recent guests of E. W. Lyon. Not long since more than 60 former and present residents of Lyons met for an all-day picnic at Sycamore Grove.

CALLED TO NEW YORK

FREDERICK O'BRIEN GOES TO CONFER WITH CENTURY PUBLISHING COMPANY

Frederick O'Brien, the author, who has recently returned from the orient and whose home is at 501 South Pacific avenue, has been summoned to New York by his publishers, the Century Company, to confer with them in regard to four books which he has now ready for publication. He left three days ago after a ten days' rest at home and will return as soon as he can break away from the business which called him to New York. His book "White Shadows in the South Seas," in which he has striven by description and story to interpret the peoples in that part of the world, is now in its fourth edition. He spent a year there. His more recent travels have been in China, Japan and the Philippines. Meanwhile, Mrs. O'Brien who is also literary and who is a self-styled "farmerette," cares for their attractive home here and specializes on the raising of roses, gold fishes and goats. She loves animals and flowers and the out-door life, and has enough occupation with them to keep her very busy. She does not expect her husband to remain in New York very long as it has no glamour for him after Southern California.

PROF. C. D. POORE'S LECTURE

Seldom have Glendale people been more entertained and instructed than by this lecture on "The Chemistry of Flame," at the High School Sunday night. Prof. Poore began with the axiom, "Principles never change, but their applications are endless." Then he gave the principle regarding fire. The three elements of fire are fuel, oxygen and the kindling temperature. And with his apparatus in his own laboratory he illustrated some of these endless applications. He boiled the oxygen out of gasoline and then stuck lighted matches into it, held paper wrapped around a copper cylinder over hottest flame with no combustion of the paper, melted metal in water boiling in a paper bag, and played with fire in an apparently reckless manner. Prof. Poore is an enthusiast in his chosen profession and communicates it to all.

W. D. McRae returned Sunday after a two weeks' absence in Tulare County around Lindsay working with the county secretary of the Y. M. C. A. there.

STATE RIGHTS DOCTRINE

COMES UP BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT IN CONNECTION WITH PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The Supreme Court today started speeding up the final decision on the validity of constitutional prohibition.

The court announced that the application of the state of Rhode Island for permission to start a suit directly in the Supreme Court to determine the validity of the prohibition amendment, has been granted. This will eliminate the delay that would be caused by proceeding in the lower courts.

Rhode Island claims the law cannot be enforced in that state because the state refused to ratify the prohibition amendment. It claims that the enforcement of prohibition infringes on the police rights and sovereignty of the state.

At the same time the Ohio wets and drys have joined in asking the court to advance for argument the Ohio suit to test the right of states to over-ride the ratification of the amendment by the legislature as was done in Ohio.

PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE

PRESIDENT WILSON DECLARES AMERICAN REPUBLICS MUST SET UP MODEL FOR THE WORLD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—In a letter of greeting at the opening session of the Pan-American Financial Conference today, President Wilson declared that the American republics must set up a model for the world in the development of high political and social ideals and must abandon all selfish purposes. He declared the American republics must be guided by "a desire to serve one another and serve the world to the utmost of their capacity."

JURISDICTION OF RAILWAY COMMISSION

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS ITS RIGHT TO REGULATE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER RATES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The Supreme Court today upheld the authority of the California State Railway Commission to regulate electric light and power rates. The ruling was made in the suit of the California Electric Company against the enforcement of the rate made by the Commission for the selling of current to the Calistoga Light and Telephone Company. The company claimed that its rates were governed by the contract made before the commission had raised the rate.

TREATY COMPROMISE CONFERENCE

UNLESS DEMOCRATS WILL YIELD ON ARTICLE 10 AND OTHER MAJOR POINTS, LODGE WILL WITHDRAW

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—It is generally believed that this week's negotiations will determine whether the opposing forces can reach a compromise on the peace treaty through the medium of the Bi-partisan conference now in progress.

Friends of Senator Lodgee believe that if he finds the Democrats will not yield on Article 10, the Monroe Doctrine and other major points, he will have nothing further to do with the compromise program.

SENTENCING OF HARRY NEW POSTPONED

BECAUSE OF MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL, ACTION DELAYED UNTIL FRIDAY MORNING

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—The passing of sentence on Harry S. New, convicted of second degree murder in causing the death of Freda Lesser, was postponed today until Friday morning at ten o'clock. The filing of a motion for a new trial caused the postponement.

The motion for the new trial alleges that evidence outside the court records was considered by the jury; that the verdict was reached by irregular methods and by lot, and that it was not in accordance with the evidence presented at the trial.

Stress is laid on the note which the jury sent Judge Craig after the report of conviction was rendered asking that New be sent to an asylum for observation before he goes to the penitentiary. The defense promised to offer affidavits in support of these allegations. New was in court and his attitude unchanged from that maintained during the trial. His half-sister, Edna Clancy, sat near him. Mrs. Lily Berger, her mother, was not present.

LIFTING OF RUSSIAN BLOCKADE

ACTION OF ALLIES REGARDED AS SOVIET VICTORY ACCORDING TO BOLSHEVIK COMMUNIQUE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Moscow newspapers consider the allied order lifting the economic blockade against Russia as a great victory for the soviet, according to a Bolshevik communique.

NEW HOUSES

TWO OF UNUSUAL FEATURES BEING CONSTRUCTED BY BENTLEY-SCHOENEMAN

Foundations have just been started for two rather unusual houses which are to be built by the Bentley-Schoeneman Company. One is a large Swiss chalet of seven rooms which Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Kuntzner are erecting in Casa Verdugo on Ross Street just east of Campbell. It is unusual in the many built-in features it will contain, which will include besides the customary buffets, china closets and kitchen cabinets, bookcases, writing desks, dressing tables, linen closets, etc. There will be electric base plugs in every room. The seven rooms include a dainty breakfast room and solarium in addition to the dining room, and of the three large bedrooms, one is to be of the unusual dimensions of 12x24 feet.

Another residence which will be novel in many respects is being built by the firm mentioned for Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Parker at the corner of Lexington and Central Avenues. Mr. Charlton, the designer of the company, has been working with Mrs. Parker on the plans for a number of weeks, going over them repeatedly to see what changes could be made or what features eliminated to do away with waste, and he feels they have achieved a triumph in designing a house which will contain eight large rooms on a ground space of only 36x22 feet. The house is a story-and-a-half structure, the living room being 14x22 feet. The dining room is 12x14, study 7x8 feet, kitchen 8x10 feet, and of the three bedrooms upstairs one is to be 16x18 feet, and in that connection are very complete bath arrangements. A great feature of the house is a reception hall 8x16 feet, from which stairs terminating in a whorl newel (something not heretofore seen in Glendale) ascend to the floor above. The house is a cross between the old English type and the modern California bungalow, and is beautifully lighted by broad windows of the small-paned English sort.

MANY BURGLARIES SATURDAY NIGHT

Taking advantage, apparently, of the absence of many householders attending the Radiant Way celebration in Los Angeles Saturday evening, burglars entered a number of Glendale homes and stole articles of household furniture. Mrs. Sellie, 450 Myrtle, Mrs. Whitmire, 437 W. Broadway, J. A. Trotter, 340 Myrtle and S. M. Collum, 443 West Colorado, were those making complaints to the police department. At the home of J. H. Jackson, 316 Milford, an attempt was made to raid the chicken yard, but the miscreants were scared away before they could lay their hands on any of the poultry.

ALFRED M. WATSON

A NATIVE CALIFORNIAN BORN SEPT. 17, 1863, AND DIED JAN. 17, 1920

Alfred Machin Watson was born in Chinese Camp, Tuolumne county, on September 17, 1863, and at date of death was aged 56 years and four months.

Mr. Watson was born of a pioneer family, who crossed the Rocky mountains and settled in California in 1850, at the time when the state had become one of the galaxy of stars of our glorious Union, and the rush for gold was at its height.

They settled in Chinese Camp, and went, as all pioneers did, through the many vicissitudes, as well as prosperity of the early days of the Golden State.

Here, Alfred Machin Watson was born, in 1863, just when our Union was in the throes of a mighty struggle to save its freedom and independence. He opened his eyes on the struggling of a nation and fell asleep on the struggling of the world for peace, liberty and brotherly love.

Under such circumstances, one might be inclined to think that his life would have loomed for him as dark and sunless—full of shadows and gloom; but as a good place in which to live, if only the right roads were traveled; so his eyes were fixed in that direction, ever shunning the guide-boards leading falsely, and steering for the goal of higher attainments.

In 1888, at 25 years of age, he married Miss Ella F. James, and together they came to Southern California, and settled in Burbank, where

UNUSUAL DINNER

THEODORE PEIRCE ENTERTAINS BUSINESS ASSOCIATES AT VINE STREET HOME

Theodore Peirce of 317 West Vine Street who is connected with the Webber Show Case Company of Los Angeles, a few nights ago entertained at dinner at his own home, members of the sales force and head of the Webber Company and their wives. It meant the laying of covers for twenty-two, and Mrs. Peirce thought out the plan of utilizing their new big garage for a banquet hall. It served excellently, and was most attractive when hung with pepper boughs and carpeted with rugs. It also kept her living rooms, which were decorated with sweet peas, undisturbed for the evening in which guests were entertained with cards and music. Those who participated in the pleasant affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Myers of Gardena, Mr. and Mrs. Veasy, Mr. and Mrs. Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, Messrs. Boesmiller, Davis and Thomasson, and Miss Hazen of Los Angeles, Mr. Holbrook of Gardena, Mr. and Mrs. Halstead and Mr. and Mrs. Waite of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter of Ocean Park and the host and hostess and their little daughter.

ACACIA MOTHERS' CLUB

Members of the Mothers' Club of the Acacia School to the number of about thirty met at the school Friday afternoon for their regular meeting. The salute to the flag with which their sessions always open, was led by the patriotic chairman of the federation, Mrs. Eustace B. Moore. The program included songs by children of the third grade and an informal talk by Mrs. A. A. Barton, president of the P. T. A. Federation who referred to the tree planting day set for February 12th, to the needs of the High School and to the work of the federation. Coffee and cake were served by Mesdames Clewett, Phillips and Wemyss.

B. Y. P. U. ELECTION

The B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist Church of this city had a delightful meeting at the home of its president, Dale Wood, at 1470 East Wilson Avenue on Friday evening. The chief business transacted was the semi-annual election at which the following officers were chosen:

President, Robert Watling.
Vice President, Dale Wood.
Secretary, Dorothy Howard.
Treasurer, Alta Lovell.
Pianiste, Faith Tarling.
Chorister, R. O. Wildman.

About twenty were present. Mystic magic was demonstrated, games were played, and refreshments served.

CANYON HIKE

On Saturday morning about twenty-five boys of the fifth and sixth grades of the Glendale schools assembled on the grounds of the Central Avenue school and with Mr. Ross, agriculture instructor in the Glendale city schools, hiked to Dead Horse Canyon. The day was spent playing games and having a general good time. The boys started for home about four o'clock and were very grateful to Mr. Ross for giving up his Saturday for their pleasure.

RAMONA COUNCIL DANCE

Members of Ramona Council No. 87, Young Ladies' Institute, were so encouraged by the success of their initial dance which was given Saturday evening in Masonic Temple, that they are planning a series of functions similar in character. About two hundred were present, including delegations from the Pasadena and Los Angeles councils. A buffet supper was served most efficiently, and fine music was provided by the Leo Goode orchestra.

RIDGELEY PARTY

MORE RESIDENTS FOR GLENDALE ARE WELCOMED BY FORMER FELLOW TOWNSMEN

The expected delegation of new residents from Ridgeley, Tenn., arrived Sunday morning and are now guests in the home of W. W. Alexander. The party included Mr. and Mrs. John Mathis, Mrs. Ella Griffin and her two children, Jim and Jessie, and Mrs. M. Murray. Sunday evening all the other residents of Glendale who came from Ridgeley gathered at the Alexander home to welcome the new comers. All expect to locate permanently in Glendale, and they have already begun the search for homes.

BUYING POOR MATERIAL

When prices are high, there is a temptation to buy material of poor quality. People feel keenly the need for economy, and jump at anything that seems low.

Merchants say more high priced goods are being sold now than ever before. A great deal of it is ornamental stuff, bought from a desire for display. This is the kind of extravagance that is doing great harm. Substantial and genuine material also brings a high price in these times. Yet it is usually the best economy. Buying this class of goods in simple styles is a policy that should be encouraged.

The public complains of high prices. The retailer feels the pressure, and passes the kick on to jobber and manufacturer. The latter may try to meet public demand by substituting inferior material. Many people believe this is being done on a big seale, and that the average quality of goods is not what it formerly was.

When goods wear out soon, the country's replacement facilities can't keep up with demand. The scarcity thus created sends prices higher still.

A period of high production costs is the worst possible time in which to buy poor material. You can't afford to put high cost labor into poor stuff. There will be nearly as much labor cost in the poor stuff, and the good article will wear two or three times as long. Buying the good material prolongs the life of merchandise, and thus helps give the production facilities of the country a chance to catch up with demand. All which must tend to bring prices to a more normal level.

If you buy goods recommended by your substantial home merchants, particularly at stores that show confidence enough in their goods to advertise them, you can feel sure you are getting the kind of material you used to have. You will thus help restore the merchandise situation to a normal basis. If you are in doubt, ask your home store people. Their advice will be disinterested, for no sale is profitable to a store unless it is satisfactory to the purchaser.—Human Interest Editorial.

CALIFORNIA COTTON

The first shipment of cotton to a foreign port direct from the harbor of Los Angeles was made when the Crown of Galicia took on 800 bales of the Imperial Valley product for delivery to Liverpool. The overseas consignment of the Southern California product was made possible by the high density compress recently installed at Los Angeles harbor. It is municipally owned and of the most modern construction.

Reports from the cotton growing districts of Southern California indicate a large increase in acreage this year. It is expected that the 250,000 acres now devoted to the crop will be increased materially because of the good prices prevailing, the building of a large cotton mill in Los Angeles, the warehouse facilities being arranged and the high density compress being installed.

Palo Verde cotton growers have organized to erect a cotton gin before next season.

An extensive acreage of cotton is to be planted at Perris, Riverside county, and a cotton gin built.

A publicity campaign to stimulate cotton growing in Tulare county has been commenced by the Tulare County Board of Trade.

Cotton planting, in addition to giving the San Joaquin valley an important crop, is developing lands heretofore planted to grains or pastured.

Officials of the United States Department of Agriculture have visited the cotton fields of Fresno and given special examination to the crop of Pima cotton.

As far north as Butte county a considerable crop of excellent cotton was produced last year.

California's cotton crop was worth $20,000,000 last year, most of it being produced in Southern California, but since it has been demonstrated that cotton will thrive in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys and large acreages are being planned, the problem of securing a sufficient amount of good seed presents itself.

Efforts are being made to perfect a Cotton Growers' Association for the general protection and promotion of the industry.

Great encouragement is felt, that as a result of the Clean Teeth Campaign, many homes have been induced to install a family toothbrush.

The Bolsheviks who advocate a revolution by force, are terribly indignant if they are assisted to take a free ride down to the police station.

The people who have set out to overturn the government, haven't overturned much yet except the park benches on which they usually fall asleep.

Case reported of a man who drank "home brew," and then rang in a fire alarm. In most cases they call for the ambulance.

Are You Keeping Your Accounts on the Barn Door?

You have doubtless heard of the farmer who kept his accounts on the barn door with chalk, and the barn burned down.

Did it ever occur to you that you are in the same class when you pay your bills with cash?

A check is a receipt that can never be denied.

Don't waste your chalk on the barn door. Let us keep your accounts.

Personals

Mrs. J. S. Moody of North Maryland Avenue and her daughter, Maud, have gone to Santa Ana to spend the week-end with Mrs. Albert Hill.

Master Alvin, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wilson of 371 West Broadway, is out among his playmates again after an operation on his throat.

Mrs. Wm. Nichols and the Misses Harriet and Margaret Nichols returned to their home in the Monte Vista apartments a week ago today, after a ten weeks' visit in the south and middle west.

Oliver Davis of Berkeley was in Glendale yesterday and today, visiting his brother, John C. Davis of 371 Salem St. He is in the oil leasing business and says there is plenty to do in that line.

Walter H. Metcalf, who came home at holiday time to visit his mother, Mrs. Marcella Metcalf of North Maryland Avenue, has returned to his work in the Wichita Falls, Texas, oil fields, where he has been employed for the past six months.

Mrs. John H. Jackson of 316 Milford St., has been quite sick for a week past, but is now on the mend. Her father, F. M. Shumate, who lives in the same house, has also been ill, suffering from frequent attacks of dizziness, some of which were quite serious.

James W. Pearson, the real estate operator, reports the sale of a Colonial bungalow at 1142 North Louise Street for Herbert M. Gragg of Pasadena to Mr. and Mrs. William A. Henthorn of Highland Park, who expect to take possession immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tower, who recently sold their home at 615 S. Adams Street and purchased unimproved lots at 634 North Orange St., have built a garage on the property to which they have just moved and in which they will be sheltered while their permanent residence is being built.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McPherson of 512 Fairmont Street are building a home on the corner of Pacific and Patterson Avenue which they hope to occupy before long. They are having the pleasure of entertaining Mrs. McPherson's sister who has come from Canada to make them a visit.

Taking advantage of the beautiful weather a party of young people chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Wilber, hiked to the Arroyo Seco Saturday night returning Sunday evening. It included Misses Doris Ingledue and Eunice Peart, Ellis Thomas, Clarence Taube of Pasadena and others from that city.

Mr T. M. Furst of the Times agency has sold his home recently purchased at 535 Oak Street and he and Mrs. Furst are temporarily residing with Mr. Furst's sister, Mrs. R. T. Logan, at 1215 East Harvard Street. They expect to purchase another home as soon as they can find a suitable location and are determined that it shall be in Glendale.

Mrs. J. W. M. Burton of Montrose entertained with a noon luncheon on Friday a few friends of Mrs. John Pirtle who has been her guest for the past week, her invitation list including Mrs. Lindsay of Glendale Heights, Mrs. Levinge, Mrs. Kirkby, and Mrs. C. D. Shattuck, and Mrs. Pirtle, who remained for the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McCullough who recently arrived from Indiana to become residents of Glendale, have finally secured possession of the property they bought on Kenwood Street in the 400 block. They moved Friday. They are very much delighted with the city of their adoption. Mrs. McCullough is a sister of J. G. Peart of 111 East Elk Avenue. Her husband is in the automobile business.

W. J. Clendenin has had a great deal of pleasure the past three weeks in showing Southern California to friends who have been living in Portland and who ran away from twelve inches of snow which was covering the ground there. They are perfectly delighted with Los Angeles and Glendale, but particularly the little city last named, and have been persuaded to remain and make a permanent home here which Mr. Clendenin is going to build for them.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON STORY CLUB

Sunday afternoon was the first meeting of the "Sunday Afternoon Story Club" of the Glendale Y. M. C. A., which met in the Intermediate School building. The boys formed their organization and the constitution and by-laws were read and adopted. Next Sunday afternoon the club meets for election of officers and charter members will be accepted until that date. The boys plan some great times, hikes, feeds, socials and stunts during the week, while Sunday afternoon meetings will have a fine program of practical talks, a boys' own devotional meeting followed by an intensely interesting boys' story. All boys of the Intermediate grades are eligible for membership, and the next meeting will be next Sunday at 3:00 o'clock in the Intermediate School building.

BULLET BREAKS ANKLE

CECIL BAISLEY, 443 OAK ST., SHOT BY OFFICER WILSON SATURDAY NIGHT

Cecil, 16-year-old son of Mrs. M. L. Baisley, of 443 Oak Street, was shot Sunday night about 10 o'clock by Officer Wilson. The police report on the affair recites that the boy was seen running by Officer Wilson, who called upon him to halt. He not obeying, the officer fired, and struck the boy on the right ankle, breaking two bones. He proved to be Cecil Baisley and gave his residence as 443 Oak Street. He was taken there by the officer and his mother and his aunt, Miss Mary Holm, notified. He was then taken to the Glendale Sanitarium, where his wound was dressed.

The boy's mother and aunt say he had been studying his lessons and decided to rest himself by taking a run around the block, as was a frequent custom of his. They say the officer was watching in their back yard and as Cecil went out in the front and started running east on Oak Street, he followed. As Cecil turned north on Columbus the officer fired and Cecil fell. He was then assisted home by the officer, as detailed above. Both Mrs. Baisley and Miss Holm declare that Cecil told them positively he did not hear any call to halt. He is very studious and quiet, they say, and never goes out at night except for a short run after studying hard.

BUYS LOS RITOS

C. L. CHANDLER PURCHASES BARTLETT PLACE ON CANADA BLVD.

Charles L. Chandler of 611 North Central Avenue has just purchased Los Ritos, the property of Mrs. W. S. Bartlett on Canada Boulevard, in Verdugo Canyon, three acres very beautifully situated, improved with a seven-room house and garage and with fine old trees and shrubbery to make the foundation of a show place. Mr. Chandler expects to secure possession in the near future and make it his home, placing his present residence upon the market. It is conveniently located, being right on the Montrose car line, but at the same time is near to nature's heart. Mrs. Bartlett, the former owner of the property, resides on West Adams Street, Los Angeles.

SINGLE TAX MEETING

The Single Tax meeting held last Saturday evening at 332 North Maryland was conducted without speeches by Mrs. L. I. Robinson. A series of question slips was given out to the guests to be answered by themselves in regular sequence. After each answer was discussed and agreed upon by all, the next was taken up the same way. This chain of answers led up to the conclusions: That taxation was necessary to defray public expenses; that the kind of taxation most desirable would make both land and products cheap and easy to get; that to make food, clothes, homes and other commodities cheap, they should not be taxed at all; that to make lands, both building sites and farms, cheap and easy to get, the opposite plan is necessary, they should be taxed sufficiently to make it unprofitable to hold them out of use; that is, all taxes should be raised from them.

Among the best answers were those given by W. F. Tower, Mrs. S. L. Gillan, Mrs. W. L. Ross and Mrs. F. C. Merrick.

CHOIR ENTERTAINMENT

The session of the Glendale Presbyterian Church entertained the choir last Friday evening.

Many short talks were given, referring back to the history of the choir from the beginning and at the end of a social hour refreshments were served by the wives of some of the session. The appreciation of this event was voiced by a note of thanks to the session by the choir. Among those present as hosts were Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Isitt, Mr. and Mrs. G. Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Edmonds, Mr. Cox and Miss E. Cox.

The guest list included: Messrs. and Mesdames C. W. Retts, A. Van Orman, C. C. Riggs, F. H. Eilers, F. Jones, Mrs. J. Cooper, Mrs. J. Banker, Mrs. A. M. Z. DesPlantes, Miss J. Harris, Miss R. Byram.

ALFRED MACHIN WATSON

and in its vicinity, they passed all their married life—a happy and contented couple—at peace with all the world and beloved by all with whom their lives intermingled.

Mr. Watson was a charter member of Ramona Parlor, N. S. G. W., of Los Angeles; a charter member of Visor Lodge, K. of P. of Tropico, (now merged with the Glendale lodge as Twin Cities Lodge); a charter member of the Foresters Lodge of Burbank, and of the Theosophy Lodge of the same place.

Mr. Watson was a member of the official force in Los Angeles county tax collector's office for 18 years, where his long term of service for the public testifies to his honesty, faithfulness and satisfactory work. Whatever he did, was done "with an eye single to its glory"; his work for others was accomplished with the same degree of honesty and pride, as if for himself; therefore he was honored and trusted by all; his friends were legion, in all walks of life, and especially were these of the civic force of officers and members, with whom he came daily in touch thru so many years; and he, too, loved his associates, and spoke of them, only a few hours before his death, on his last ride home from the City Hall as brothers and sisters, praising them for their loyalty and faithfulness to duty. On the same journey home he talked of his family—his wife, daughter and granddaughters, their faithfulness to him and home; thru all the walks of life, and said he hoped to soon be so situated that he might retire from the labors of office work, and spend the later years of life at home; the place that to him had been always a haven of rest, a heaven on earth.

When one hears such expressions from a man in this age of family dissensions, it creates a holier feeling in the heart for all mankind, and one hopes for an era of re-adjustment of present conditions of the world's unrest, the purification of social life—then, when one sees the light of such pure, domestic life, extinguished suddenly, without a moment of warning, wonderment and sorrow fill the heart, and the brain asks, "Why this?" "For what end?" And the only answer, "The Father alone knoweth."

Mr. Watson went to his night's repose in a happy, cheerful mood, at peace with all the world, and a heart overflowing with love for family, friends, and neighbors, and "Like a thief in the night Death came, and raised him to a more glorious resurrection; his earthly work was done; he had reached the resting-place in life; the reaping was done; the grain was garnered, though unknown to him, and God took him for a higher and nobler life.

With the passing away of our dear friend and brother, the family, wife, daughter and grandchildren, have lost their dearest earthly friend, and comforter in time of trouble; and to them the hearts of friends and neighbors in all walks of life, go out in sympathy and love; the friends and neighbors, who respected and honored him, have lost a sincere, true-hearted companion and friend; and the many fraternities to which he belonged have lost a faithful member and helper, and all can mourn, only for their own loss, and rejoice that he has gained a higher rank; has been taken into a Brotherhood that walks on a higher plane.

The funeral services of Brother Watson will be conducted by the Knights of Pythias lodge of Glendale at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Cemetery, Glendale, on Wednesday, the 21st inst. at 3 o'clock p. m., when those who loved and respected him will have the privilege of paying their parting respects to him who has been a faithful husband and father, a true and faithful friend to all who walked with him and along life's pathway, and a sincere and true-hearted brother to the great Brotherhood of Man.

A FRIEND.

The King is coming and we must see to it that there are no obstructions along the highway that He shall travel, that the high places are leveled down and the hollows are filled in that there may be a path that is clear, a shining King's Highway for His coming. For has He not promised us, "I go to prepare a place for you?" We must be ready to bring our best to this reception; it must be a smooth highway, not a rough path in a desert of wickedness. The Lord has done his part in making the way so plain that the wayfaring man need not be lost. From Calvary the highway went down through Gethsemane, and He went ahead down into the darkness that we might be encouraged to follow, for the ending of it is in the light of His presence. In this great state of ours there are state highways of which we are properly proud, the rough places have been made smooth and here and there as we travel over them we find rest places where we can turn aside and be refreshed. Now along this Highway of the King there are stopping places where He has prepared for us a feast, and when we stop He will come and feast with us. Are you prepared to stop here next Sabbath morning when the Communion Table is set? Shall we not be prepared as fully as possible to meet Him at this feast?

The voice that speaks to us is the voice of the Spirit. We shall not hear in this voice the thunderings of the world. It is the still small voice within that is the one with such an appeal that the noises of the world can not silence it; it is for us to answer, "Lord, here am I."

It is the voice of Faith. The herald of Faith precedes the King and prepares the way. It is the voice of this herald that we hear calling us into His presence . This voice tells us to get up into the mountain where He is and be prepared to receive Him. We do not want to come to this feast unprepared, and do not want to come if we are not to see Him. It is the feast that he has prepared for us and shall we put slight upon the King by not being attired in the wedding garment? In these symbols we must not see the material, but be able to discern the Lord's body.

The fifth voice is that of the Lord. There is no certainty that you or I shall be at this feast, but there is no doubt but that He will be there. This feast has priority over all others, no other plans should conflict with our presence there. In our human experience, what rejoicing there is among the children wnen the father of the family returns from an absence from the family circle, how we should gather about this Father who rules over us; who has promised us great things and whose promises are always fulfilled. He will bring us the good things He has promised and we shall receive them with thanksgiving. It is a personal matter and you and I personally must prepare to receive Him, for He brings to us that Peace that passeth understanding.

R. P. Jodon and family of 224 S. Louise St. are moving today into the property they bought two weeks ago at 157 S. Central Avenue.

"RAILROADS AND NATIONAL WELFARE"

The railways of the country are so essential to its development and vital welfare that anything which touches their proper and effective management, direction, control and functioning is a foolish and evil thing. This $18,000,000,000 worth of property represents the very nerve system of the nation. Anything which smacks of government ownership—an old and outworn expedient—tends to paralyze the commercial life of the country. This plan has failed in Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Austria and Russia. Why should it succeed here? It can succeed nowhere.

Government service, in the experience of the nations which have adopted it, means wretched service, high freight rates, low wages, increased taxes and the creation of broods of hungry government politicians. Private ownership in this country has been responsible for the cheapest freight rates and highest wages the world ever saw in this connection. Our roads could not be duplicated today for their present capitalization. The socialized lines of Europe have twice the capitalization ours have.

It also is time to bar the platitude that these great institutions are run for the benefit of the few—popular theme with soap-box orators and interested agitators. A million men and women own the stocks and bonds of our railways, and other millions of men and women and little children are interested in them indirectly in various ways. It is estimated that 25,000,000 people are interested in these American railways.

When a few Socialists attempt to lay their hands on the arteries of American trade it is high time that the other millions of people in the country rise and smite the innovation, and the innovators, if need be. The country is tired of being taken by the throat and threatened. Democratization, socialization of railways, or government ownership, or harassing government interference with private ownership means efficiency destroyed, waste and extravagance enlarged, the country vitally injured.—Cincinnati, O., Enquirer.

ley, his seeming spontaniety furnished occasion for wonder and admiration.

At the close of his talk card pledges for money to finance a five-year campaign were circulated with apparently excellent response. He spoke very rapidly, almost without pause. He said many wise and clever things. In the outset he declared that "this is a victory of the Church of God, not of the Anti-Saloon League, not of the W. C. T. U., not of the Prohibition Party," though all have helped in spite of their mistakes; that it is a miracle in comparison with which all other miracles pale into insignificance. Said he:

"One hundred and thirty-two years ago we broke the shackles of a foreign domination, of the King of England, but when we got rid of John Barleycorn we got rid of a more autocratic king. We proclaimed last July the liberty of more slaves than were enslaved in the sixties. The slave was a free man mentally and spiritually, but the liquor traffic owns its victim's mind, soul and body.

"The liquor traffic of America is dead as Julius Caesar, though some people believe it will be permitted to return to California next November. Don't you worry! You Californians can not secede from this Union, so long as we Southerners are on the ground. This nation can not exist half slave and half free. It is a crime in Tennessee to sell liquor and we won't send our liquor dealers to prison and let you send yours to Congress (applause). He then referred to the measure known as "The Harris Bill," passed by the legislature and signed by the governor, against which referendum measures are out which must be voted down in November to make the law effective. In other words, the Harris Bill must be ratified by the people at the polls if means for the enforcement of the law in California are to be provided. Said he:

"A wet now is a secessionist, and we Southerners have come back to tell you that you shall not do it. We owe you that return. State rights was shot out of the South in 1861. Americans support the constitution and only the wets who are anarchists are opposing the constitution now. You can not be a wet now without being an I. W. W., an anarchist or a Bolshevik. We got prohibition by the vote of 45 out of 48 states—15 to 1. Bryan never beat that in his palmiest days. We have 300 acres of dry territory to one acre of wet territory."

Prophesying for the future he said: "America is going around the globe to give a dry cleaning to the rest of the world. . .It is as probable there will be a saloonless world in 1930 as it was probable in 1911 that America would be saloonless in 1920. Since it was done in America it will be one in the world."

He expressed his appreciation of the work of the preachers without whom, he declared, no community could hold its place in the march of progress, and said they had his sympathy when they had to stand up and denounce the Devil on Sunday and then live with him the rest of the week, adding that the liquor traffic hates the church and naves the ministers.

Referring to the world war he confessed that for a long time he prayed for peace until he was made to realize that God's plan called for victory and then peace. He likened the world prohibition movement to that war and urged his hearers to pray for victory rather than peace. He also declared that the passage of national prohibition and the assembling of the peace conference in July and the ratification of the peace treaty and of prohibition on the 16th of January were not a coincidence, but a providence of God.

He spoke of the exodus of the liquor interests to Mexico, Japan and China and declared that any American who leaves this country because he wishes to defy its constitutional mandates and to thrust the liquor traffic on some other nation, should be forever barred from citizenship here.

RECIPES FOR KEEPING YOUNG

Men mindful of the inexorable law of compensation remain skeptical of the merits of gland transplantation or other convenient methods of conserving or restoring youth. Yet the quest for a panacea at least against premature old age continues. The amazing fact about the discoveries are announced at the rate of one a day, or perhaps oftener, is their inexhaustible variety. No two bear the slightest resemblance to each other.

We are told to chew each morsel of food thirty-two times—once for each tooth in the completely outfitted mouth and also to drink a liter and a half of liquid with each meal. Another enthusiast forbids liquid except between meals. Dr. Metchnikoff and his bacillus bulgaricus rose for a moment, then set again.

The world is full of scientific necromancers with schemes for keeping the tap of health constantly turned on. A few, like Metchnikoff and Dr. Fletcher, attain a measure of longevity, but are not conspicuously successful. Their rules do not carry them beyond the century mark. More fail completely. As to others, the vital statistics are incomplete.

In a single week recently a British scientist and author of international reputation, a healer from Highland Park, Ill., a professor of physical education at Columbia University and a Mexican philosopher held the popular ear for a moment with their recipes for prolonging youth. The Mexican, who is still young, makes the most extravagant claims for his method; he expects to live 400 years. The Briton promises us only "from 90 to 105 years" if we will obey his mandates. The others are more conservative, but they hold out the prospect of greater happiness in life while we are living it. "Fruit and green vegetables, not serums," is the dictum from Highland Park: "exercise and fresh air" is the message from Columbia University.

The future Methusaleh from Mexico restricts his food to raw rice and oats and drinks nothing but olive oil. He stands 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 225 pounds, a veritable walking demonstration of the wholesomeness of a restricted diet, in contrast to the belief of the Illinoisan, who declares that all that is the matter with us is that we do not have variety enough. He adds:

I do not concede that the typhoid germ has anything to do with typhoid fever.

Health is as much dependent upon fruits and vegetables as on protein, carbohydrates and fats.

The late epidemic of influenza was due to an explosion of nutritive products of a poor dietary system.

The indisputable truth is that fruits and vegetables, rather than serums, are the logical panacea for disease.

We turn to the London scientist, a Dr. Josiah Oldfield, his name itself an aptronymic, for futher light:

The daily diet should include dandelion leaves, fowl's eggs, grapes, lettuce, milk, watercress, honey and uncooked salads. Old age is caused by deposits in the blood vessels of waste matter. So, by adopting a frutarian diet, an old man may become young again.

"A GOOD TURN DAILY"

One of the small bits of routine in the daily life of an active and loyal Boy Scout is the doing of a "good turn." Anyone who is familiar with the habits of a genuine Boy Scout will probably admit that most of the lads do not stop with a single good turn, but cheerfully perform little services of helpfulness or courtesy whenever the opportunity offers.

Next February the American organization of Boy Scouts will celebrate its tenth anniversary. In honor of this occasion the 470,000 lads identified with the movement are asking all other Americans, men, women and children, to adopt for one week the Scout's practice, and to do at least one good turn for somebody else every day during the week of February 8-14.

It is a wonderful invitation. Every sensible person will accept with alacrity. There are a good many corners in the land where a single act of cheery helpfulness would mean a happier, easier day for somebody. The good turn might be done in one's own home, to other members of the family, or it might be in behalf of a total stranger on the street or in a store. If one week of unselfish beginnings works well, the general public may be tempted to try another, and what a world of happiness and progress would then be ushered in!

It is denied that the profiteers pay no attention to the government demand that they fix reasonable prices, as they have responded by sticking up their figures another notch.

The people who can't afford to subscribe to the home newspaper, will be cheered by the fact that the patent medicine almanacs for 1920 are now being delivered free.
